– INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP –
Presentation and communication skills
Get yourself prepared for virtual job faires
5:00–7:00 pm (CET / UTC+1) | Online (Zoom)

Virtual job fairs are a good way to get in touch with companies and enhance your network. This online workshop is a valuable instrument to prepare yourself for a successful performance in a virtual job fair. What can I expect of a online fair in general? What do I have to be aware of in a virtual setting? How can I present myself in the best way? You will also learn about business etiquette („Business Knigge“), which plays a very important role in this context. Interaction and practical experiments are the focus of this workshop. Therefore, be prepared to get actively involved. The number of participants for this workshop is limited.

Input by: Janine Marielle Ruch, coach for communication, speaker and voice actor
